

Editorial:

Dear readers,

you are receiving another edition of EMI magazine, which brings you five brand-new scientific papers and one research monograph review.

The issue of the magazine is published at a time when MVŠO is undergoing a very dynamic transformation and development, which is also reflected in the philosophy and style of the EMI journal.

The first paper deals with the impact of venture capital financing on startup innovation in Algeria, presenting the case of the Algerian Startup Fund. The second article discovers the capital structure and market value of listed deposit money banks in Nigeria. The third article reflects on whether the Czech Republic should adopt the euro and brings the analysis of potential advantages and disadvantages of the Czech Republic's entry into the eurozone. The fourth paper characterizes the effects of financial statements on the capital structure decision process of listed brewery companies in Nigeria, and the fifth provides an answer to the question if firm attributes do affect capital structure adjustments of listed manufacturing firms in Nigeria.

In the next section, you can familiarize yourself with the review of the book "Opportunities for Growth: THE WORLD 2100" by reviewer Ing. Jiří Zmatlík, Ph.D.

Lastly, we, unfortunately, bring you the sad news of the death of our dear member of the editorial board, Wladek Sroka. Włodzimierz Krzysztof Sroka (15 August 1967 – 21 January 2023) was a Polish economist and manager, associate professor of strategic management at WSB University in Dąbrowa Górnicza. Wladek, we remind you with respect and humility in our hearts. We cherish your interesting and valuable opinions, as well as the enjoyable moments spent at conferences. You will remain in our hearts. Rest in peace.

Assoc. Prof. Ing. Adam Pawliczek, Ph.D.
